"A cornucopia of sounds, instruments, talent and personalities. Their sound is extremely fun, has soul, and is incredibly original. It's like they took a little bit of punk, some hip-hop beats, a generous portion of classic rock, and a pinch of grunge, threw it in a blender and poured themselves a large glass." - HipstersEatForFree

"60s era Doors-like rock in a bottle blasted into the modern age, these tracks sparkle." - PastaPrimavera about:

In their ten years of making music the band has happened upon an entirely original sound. You can hear elements of Brit punk, dance rock, and soul, but the overall sound is something very much its own: a quirky mash up of experimental pop featuring three lead singers and a wide variety of instruments and sounds.

influences:

The Beatles, Gorillaz, Jimi Hendrix, Talking Heads, Beck, John Coltrane, Parliament-Funkadelic, Nirvana, The Ramones, and C & C Music Factory

instrumentation:

larry thomas moore - vocals, guitar, bass christopher wood - vocals, drums, pots & pans frank ewing - vocals, sax, keys, guitar, & percussion bob cahill - bass, guitar
